

Laila Biali

Music, 2002

Professional Singer, Pianist, Songwriter, Performer and Recording Artist

Laila Biali is an award-winning internationally recognized Canadian singer-songwriter and pianist. Her accolades include “SOCAN Composer of the Year” and “Keyboardist of the Year” at Canada’s National Jazz Awards, along with a JUNO win for Vocal Jazz Album of the Year for her self-titled album Laila Biali. Biali has performed at some of the most prestigious venues in the world, including Tokyo’s Cotton Club and Carnegie Hall in New York City. She has collaborated with many internationally renowned artists in her industry, including Chris Botti, Paula Cole, Suzanne Vega and Sting.