DISABILITY EMPLOYMENT AWARENESS MONTH: AN INTERSECTIONAL APPROACH TO DISABILITY

Event Details

Date:

Friday,
October 1, 2021

Time:

9:00 am - 12:00 pm

Location:

Webinar

Liz's career spans over 30 years of enriched and transformative education and life experiences; delineating recognition for her distinctive expertise: including education and equity (i.e. anti-black racism, disability rights, and accommodations); governance and policy; strategic change management; and executive coaching.

Learning Objectives:

- Define key terms and concepts, including anti-Black racism, critical race theory, and disability justice
- Understand why using an intersectional approach with accommodations will facilitate the full participation and engagement of students and colleagues with disabilities
- Examine and outline the principles of disability justice, reflect on your approach to accommodations, and identify professional areas for implementation
- Learn practical approaches to accommodating persons with disabilities and intersectional identities, including Black, Indigenous, and racialized students with disabilities
