

Humber's Community Barrier Identification Form

Did you know that Humber has a feedback process about the way it provides goods and services to persons with disabilities?

The Community Barrier Identification Form is a feedback process that enables people to provide feedback in person, by telephone, in writing, by email or by another method.

If you identify a barrier to delivering goods and services to persons with disabilities at Humber,

OR

If you would like to share how Humber is increasing accessibility for persons with disabilities, please let us know.
