

Journal of Innovation in Polytechnic
Education

Inaugural Call for Papers

The Editorial Board of the Journal of Innovation in Polytechnic Education (JIPE) in collaboration with Humber Press is pleased to announce the call for papers for the inaugural issue of the Journal.

The Journal of Innovation in Polytechnic Education is an online, open-access journal devoted to publishing peer-reviewed papers that investigate and expand teaching and learning within the polytechnic educational context.

The journal features scholarly work that explores the integration of theory and practice in an authentic manner and education that fosters innovation and entrepreneurship characteristic of the polytechnic model of education.

JIPE especially encourages contributions exploring the impact of innovative teaching and learning practices that push the boundaries of traditional approaches to learning or educational delivery including: inter-disciplinary approaches; the engagement of students with industry, action learning and/or applied learning and research opportunities.

The journal publishes original empirical papers (5000-8000 words), brief reports (2500 words), review papers (5000-8000 words), and occasionally book reviews (1500 words). The journal welcomes submissions from scholars across the polytechnic and community college sector, both within and outside of Canada.

To be considered for publication in the first issue, manuscripts should be submitted by October 1, 2016. The inaugural issue will be released in early 2017.

For more information or to submit a manuscript for consideration, visit www.jipe.ca

Please direct any questions to Dr. Heidi Marsh (Heidi.marsh@humber.ca), Editor-in-chief.