

COLLEGE CASE CONFERENCE

BRINGING THE REAL WORLD INTO THE CLASSROOM:

A Case Method Half Day Conference

Friday, May 16, 2014

12:30 to 6:00 p.m.

Humber College · Lakeshore Campus
3199 Lake Shore Blvd W, Toronto, ON M8V 1K8

The Case Method has traditionally been used in Business programs, but is gaining currency across the disciplines as a student-centered approach that engages students on an emotional level, connects theory to practice and encourages deep learning. It also teaches transferable skills in critical reading, critical thinking, problem solving and effective oral communication in small and large groups. Come share with colleagues from the Community Colleges and from across the disciplines as we explore best practices in case teaching and case writing.

Our keynote speaker, Brian Thwaits, shows people how to enhance their learning, communication, creativity, and problem-solving and thinking skills. As a “brain trainer,” Thwaits will tap the latest brain research and learning theories to suggest – in fun and delightful ways – that what neuroscientists tell us about brains harmonizes beautifully with proven strategies and techniques that will lead to successful learning outcomes.

This conference is open to all faculty and staff in the Community Colleges free of charge. For more information, or to propose a presentation or panel, please contact chandra.hodgson@humber.ca.

To register, visit: www.humber.ca/centreforteachingandlearning

THE CENTRE FOR TEACHING
& LEARNING

Teaching and Learning Canada
Apprentissage Médiation Enseignement