

COMMUNITY OF PRACTICE

LEADERSHIP

In every program at Humber, we are creating our leaders of tomorrow. Whether you are teaching a leadership course or not, this community of practice will bring together faculty passionate about the leadership development of our students. Themes and topic matters to be covered will be determined by the community of practice participants. Join us for this community of practice and meet with other passionate leading faculty to share your experiences, highlights, challenges, resources, “go to” activities and best practices in building student leaders.

If you are unable to attend but are interested in being a part of this community, please contact lisa.buchanan@humber.ca for more information.
