in/sight (noun)

the capacity to gain an accurate and deep intuitive understanding of a person or thing.

In light of the year 2020, in sight & in/sight is a play on words about what is seen and what we perceive things to be. The thesis show is a collection of the students' talents and explores their insight into the different facets of design. Important social issues, emerging trends, and current design developments have motivated us to push the boundaries in order to create new design solutions. The Humber BID class of 2020 would like to share our insight with you!
