The Dean's Message

As the Dean, I could not be happier to thank the Longo Family Foundation for the $5-million gift that will be instrumental in paving the way for a new generation of entrepreneurs while also strengthening economies and building up communities. In recognition of this support, we are now named the Longo Faculty of Business and the Longo Centre for Entrepreneurship.

Our strong industry relationships continue with business leaders engaging with students in the classroom as well as hiring graduates for full-time positions. The Paralegal Studies program reputation continues to be second-to-none with graduates being accepted into Osgoode Hall and Lincoln Alexander School of Law. Focus on entrepreneurialism is key for our students. A prime example is a Fashion Arts and Business alumni pivoting from modelling to become an award-winning entrepreneur.

Be sure to read the story of devotion behind The Franca Giacomelli Scholarship for Dedication, Achievement and Service as a testament to the faculty and staff that are the spirit of the Longo Faculty of Business.

LONGO FACULTY OF BUSINESS

A $5-million gift from the Longo Family Foundation will support scholarships, entrepreneurship programming and increased opportunities for our students to develop skills and experience that will set them apart and guide them on the road to success.

In recognition of this generosity, Humber will be naming the Longo Faculty of Business and the Longo Centre for Entrepreneurship. This is significant as it is the first time a school or faculty has been named in the college's more than 50-year history.

The Story of Devotion Behind The Franca Giacomelli Scholarship for Dedication, Achievement and Service

After 42 years of teaching, mentoring and supporting more than 10,000 students, long-time faculty member Franca Giacomelli is retiring.

As an instructor and Program Coordinator in the Business Administration Co-op and Business Administration Advanced Diploma programs for the Longo Faculty of Business, Franca has helped place students in their co-op assignments as well as helping them secure full-time employment upon graduation.

In honour of Franca's retirement and in recognition of her dedication to students, Franca's family has established a scholarship in her name. Her true passion is and always has been teaching. Her dedication to her students always went above and beyond her duties. With these factors in mind, the scholarship will be awarded to an individual who demonstrates many of Franca's traits through leadership, volunteerism, and helping to create a sense of community.

The Franca Giacomelli Scholarship for Dedication, Achievement and Service will be presented to a student in their final semester of study in the Business Administration programs who maintains a high academic standing; is an active participant in student committees, events, or competitions; and who demonstrates leadership potential through their contributions to the classroom, the Humber community or their community.
