Teaching Effectiveness Certificate

The Teaching Effectiveness Certificate is a foundational professional learning program designed for educators and trainers who are new to teaching in adult learning environments as well as for experienced educators and trainers seeking to revisit and reflect on the fundamentals of effectively teaching adult learners. This certificate provides essential training in key areas such as curriculum design, instructional strategies, assessment methods, and creating a community of learners. The certificate consists of four courses, offering a comprehensive introduction to the core principles of adult teaching and learning. Upon successful completion of the four core courses, participants will receive a Certificate of Completion.
