

Leadership Workshop 2:

Leading Others

After attending this workshop the most important thing I learned was:

This is important because...

In this workshop we discussed a number of ways to prevent conflict. Two new strategies that I am going to implement to prevent conflict in a group setting are:

1

2

Balancing the needs of the team and task completion is an important skill to have when leading others. The next time I am working with a group on a project, I am going to...

This will help prevent conflict among teammates while ensuring tasks are completed.

